Federal Laws and Regulations Every Healthcare Facility Should Know

Webinar #T2989

DATE AND TIME

September 29, 2015
9:00 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. CT

OVERVIEW

The Joint Commission leadership standard 01.07.01 requires that the hospital board, senior managers, and leaders of the medical staff have knowledge needed for their roles, including information on laws and regulations. Failure to follow a federal law can be introduced into the courtroom to show that the hospital breached the standard of care and imply negligence. This program will discuss some of the many changes in federal regulations and interpretive guidelines by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) regarding the hospital conditions of participation which must be followed by every hospital that accepts Medicare or Medicaid.

TARGET AUDIENCE

CEOs, COOs, CNOs, nurses, nurse educators, risk managers, compliance officer, hospital legal counsel, emergency department managers, nurse managers/supervisors, The Joint Commission coordinators, quality improvement directors, human resource staff, board members, patient safety officers and anyone else involved with health care laws.

OBJECTIVES

- Discuss laws affecting health care including the federal EMTALA Law.
- Identify violations of federal laws that may be used in the courtroom to show a breach of the standard.
- Locate a copy of various federal health care laws.
- Discuss The Joint Commission standards needed for leadership roles, including information on laws and regulations.
- Discuss the changes to the hospital conditions of participation.
