

hosted by

CONTINUING NURSING EDUCATION

WTA

WOUND TREATMENT ASSOCIATE

Wound Treatment
Associate (WTA) Program

WHY CHOOSE UNMC?

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

UNMC College of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education department has the clinical expertise and academic experience to deliver online education using state of the art technology.

ACCESS TO AN EXPERT

A UNMC expert will assist students throughout the 12 week online self-paced program and again on the simulation day.

HANDS ON APPROACH

Virtual simulation day with competency review hosted by UNMC College of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education in Omaha, NE.

QUALITY PARTNERSHIP

UNMC College of Nursing CNE is committed to improving patient outcomes through effective training and high-quality education.

ABOUT WTA PROGRAM

- The program is offered to non-specialty nurses at all levels of practice and other licensed health care professionals.
- Prepares nurses and other providers for a higher level of competency and knowledge including preparation for the WTA-C certification (not required).

BENEFITS OF COURSE

- Prevent avoidable pressure injuries
- Avert wound complications
- Foster optimal patient outcomes and satisfaction
- More accurate documentation and reimbursement
- Enhance wound care teams (WOC nurse support)
- Flexible self-paced program
- 32.25 ANCC contact hours for nurses
- 21.0 CCUs for PTs & PTAs provided by ProCert-FSBT

DID YOU KNOW?

ONE pressure injury = $43K*

ONE WTA participant = $1K

.....
Worth the investment! * (AHRQ, 2014)

SPACE IS LIMITED

Next session starts 8.22.22

Registration ends 8.19.22

For more information: <https://app1.unmc.edu/cne/wta/>
Renee Paulin MSN, RN, CWOCN 402.559.4524 •
concne2@unmc.edu